Colts Team 0138

Experience Gained
Our team had some new members in the Botball tournament. Marc Romero, our new member, learned how to code the create and the wallaby. Our team also learned that the board can get messy pretty fast.

Documentation Process
The process was relatively simple and fun. We grinded it out last minute, as always, made a video, and did our best.

Surprises
One of our team member wanted to "improve our bot" but it set us back 2 weeks of progress. So that wasn't fun at all. The popcorn chicken we ate was a 6/10, not bad.

Advice for Future Teams
Make sure your class wants to actually do this project. Our team was forced, and we did not put as much effort as we should have if we were hyped up. Make sure your battery is also working, else you waste time.
